Things might slow down for some in the hot summer months, but not for us here at Pidgeon & Co. We're servicing jobs left and right, including renovations of an office spaces in Newton and Brighton and three multi-resident buildings in Brighton and Somerville; not to mention we are working hard with the folks over at the Idle Hands Brewery to further expand their storage areas. In addition to our newsletter, make sure you follow us on Facebook and Instagram to stay up-to-date on all our current and future endeavors.

As always, we look forward to taking flight with you.

Sincerely,

Molly Pidgeon and the Pidgeon & Co. team

Why Pidgeon & Co.?

Planning your project or relocating your office and have a tight deadline?

Most people forget to figure in permitting time in leasing discussions and negotiations. Permitting can take up to 30 days from point of submission, and submissions can sometimes take up to two weeks, depending on review by local jurisdiction and specific requirements like Fire Department plan review!

Meet The Newest Member of the Flock - Dave McQuaid

Dave McQuaid has joined our flock as Construction Manager. As a graduate of Wentworth Institute of Technology, Dave comes to us with 18 years of experience as Project Manager. Dave brings to the firm a vast knowledge in producing project schedules and budgets and collaborates closely with project designers, site superintendents and sub-contractors. Dave is incredibly well respected in the industry - forming strong business relationships with both his colleagues and peers. We are thrilled to welcome Dave to our flock!

Pidgeon & Co. Attends NeoCon

In June, Pidgeon & Co. attended the NeoCon conference at the Mart in Chicago. Held every year since 1969, NeoCon serves as the commercial design industry's launch pad for innovation. The show offers ideas and introductions that shape the built environment today and into the future. Representatives from a variety of industries including Healthcare, Hospitality, Retail, Education, Public Space and Government and the commercial design community are able to connect, inspire, learn and do business. It was a wonderful experience, filled with wonderful design ideas and inspiration.
